Rudely Interrupted One of Australia's most unique indie rock acts, touring and releasing their brand of pitch perfect indie/rock/love/pop anthems across the Globe since 2007. This remarkable contemporary group of unlikely rockers have carved out a social & sonic signature all their own. In 2008 Rudely Interrupted were the first ever independent rock band to perform at the United Nations in New York City, which in return, has sent them on an international touring path that's carried them to this day.

It's been a huge start to the year for the guys and we can't wait to take the show to Australian audiences in October/November 2014. Recently returning from their 13th international tour where the group performed with the amazing 80 pc Alberto Pio Orchestra in Italy and then flew to LA for the craziest party ever, the Twenty Wonder celebrations at the Doll Factory LA Rudely Interrupted are thrilled to be touring Australia.

Rudely Interrupted are incredibly proud about their 4th studio project, 'I Am Alive'. "We all really believe in the new record and the new songs, the whole performance is right, the new songs, and the band has a new spirit of confidence about it." Say Brooks.

On first listen you'll be quickly taken on a journey where your worries will be left behind, for over two minutes you'll be taken on a beautiful ride, you'll feel ALIVE, uplifted and carried on a seamless musical journey full of hope and life affirming goodness, Rudely Interrupted have arrived!

"Their music is some of the most energetic and genuine to emerge from the Australian rock 'n' roll underground in recent times." Timeout Sydney
